1.

the life I have lived
is nothing more or less than vapor from my lungs
on a cold-still day

I am aching to be more
but I tend to be less

2.

there is little time
to look ahead
into the transforming
light
to witness
the cumulative impact

all I can do
is prepare